

Ms. Eldridge's Third Grade
Room 172 Campers
10/19/18

Writing- Students are working on revising their poems and using different voices to express themselves: talking to the reader, talking to the subject, or creating a story poem. We have also worked on writing answers in complete sentences.

Reading- Students wrote summaries about a story this week. Our next reading unit focuses on mysteries.

Spelling- Next week, we will work on long u-ew, u_e, oo patterns.

Science- We are completing posters about the salt marsh and paintings that depict the life cycle of the Monarch butterfly.

Social Students- Students learned about the continents and defining our place in space.

Math- We completed unit 1. Our next unit requires students to explain patterns and solve problems using the four operations: multiplication, division, subtraction, and addition. Students will also use place value to understand multi-digit addition and subtraction.

Cursive- We worked on letters h, g, and t.
