Ms. Eldridge's Third Grade
Room 172 Campers
2/1/19

Writing- Students pulled out story elements from fairy tales to use in planning their own versions of Jack and the Beanstalk. We talked about authors changing characters, setting, and events to adapt fairy tales.

Reading- Students worked on connecting what they already know about weather to their wonderings about weather. We also worked on water cycle related vocabulary.

Spelling- Our word study this week focuses on Consonant blends: ck, ct, ft, ld, mp, nd.

Science- We learned how clouds form and how different clouds give us clues about the weather. Please see the family letter in your child's tote for more information about our upcoming weather lessons.

Math- Students took their math NWEA tests this week and explored fractions using a new tool, fraction circles.
